

Embracing Change Through DUI Court

When Michelle received her second DUI charge, she was found by a Forsyth County Deputy who passed out in her car in the middle of an intersection. She had injected Oxycodone and passed out behind the wheel. The deputy said when he approached her car, her lips were blue and she would have died if he had not found her when he did.

This incident was a wakeup call for Michelle and she knew she had to change her life. She embraced the DUI Court program and has taken her commitment to sobriety to the next level. She is trying to improve herself as a human being and lead a more productive life. She says this is the first time she has made goals for her life and taken steps to achieve them. The DUI Court is very proud of the changes Michelle has made in her life and the progress she has made in the program.

The DUI Court program is a United Way of Forsyth County Community Grant Recipient.
